

IS IT A QUIET BEFORE A STORM

Peace Seems To Have Lighted Upon The Dome Of The State Capitol.

HAVE WARRING FACTIONS DECIDED

To Declare Present Hostilities At An End And Bend All Energies To Control State Patronage And Political Affairs?

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 16.—Unless something "breaks out" politics in this state will be mighty dull and uninteresting for the next two years. It's all on account of the thick layers of harmony that were plastered on the situation in the conference of the leaders held at Milwaukee last week during the state fair. This will be a decided relief to many people of this state, after nearly a decade of the most bitter factional fighting. Ambition, the cause of much of the trouble in the past, was strangely the reason for the consummation of the peace of today, which seems likely to prevail for at least two years. The situation seems to be settled about as follows: James O. Davidson is to be given a remuneration by the republicans without a fight. Isaac Stephenson of Marquette will be the leading and probably the only candidate for the republican nomination for United States senator a year hence, to succeed himself for a full term of six years. Robert M. La Follette is to be the leading republican of the state and is to be pushed as a candidate for the republican nomination for president. How hard and how far he will be pushed depends upon the degree of support which he shall be able to muster in the other states. But La Follette is master of the situation in Wisconsin and has great influence to name candidates, but in view of the fact that he will need the united support of the party in Wisconsin in furtherance of his presidential boom, he is likely to mix little in congressional district and other local political contests. The separate ambitions of La Follette, Stephenson and Davidson brought them together in practically perfect harmony. La Follette wants to be presented by Wisconsin in the national republican convention more than he wants to dictate who shall be Stephenson's successor in the senate or Davidson's successor in the executive chair. Stephenson, notwithstanding the campaign announcement of his managers when Senator John C. Spooner retired, to the effect that Stephenson wanted only the short remainder term of two years, would like to be elected for a full term. Governor Davidson would like to avoid a fight in holding his executive job, and so these three ambitious leaders quite naturally got together at the state fair and formed a natural admiration and boosting society.

CANADA'S LABORERS MEET AT WINNIPEG

Dominion's Trades Meet for Twenty-third Time—Council Will Last a Week.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 16.—The brain and sinew of organized labor in Canada filled the large assembly hall of the provincial parliament building today at the formal opening of the twenty-third annual session of the Trades and Labor Council of Canada. President Alphonse Verville, M. P., called the gathering to order and the roll call showed the attendance to be larger and more representative than at any previous meeting of the council. Greetings were exchanged and after that the meeting went into session for the consideration of its regular business. The annual report prepared by Secretary-Treasurer P. M. Draper shows the most satisfactory progress for the past twelve months. Within that period numerous bodies, including the Canadian organizations of carpenters, printing pressmen and assistants, plumbers and steamfitters, tailors, maintenance of way employees, bookbinders, electrical workers, bridge and structural iron workers, leather workers and brewery employees, have become affiliated with the council and thereby added thousands to its membership roll. The finances of the organization also are reported in good shape. There is much important business awaiting attention and the sessions of the council will probably continue for a week or longer. The question of immigration is one of the most vital matters to come up for consideration and action.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE MEETS AT NORFOLK

Temperance Organization Gathers for Tenth Annual Convention.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Norfolk, Va., Sept. 16.—The Anti-Saloon League of America is celebrating its tenth anniversary with a largely attended convention at the Jamestown convention. The sessions began today and will continue through the greater part of the week. Thursday will be National Temperance day at the exposition, with a special program of speaking under the auspices of the league. The Anti-Saloon league, although independent of religious bodies, is endorsed by a number of them and counts among its leaders and workers men who are at the front also in their denominational relations. The increase in the strength of the organization in recent years is well illustrated by the prominence of the men who are to address the present convention. Among them is announced Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina, and Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana. Senator Carmack of Tennessee is also expected to be a speaker, as is C. W. Tackett of the attorney-general's office of Kansas, prosecutor of the saloonists and brewers of Kansas City. In its business sessions the league will discuss means for securing the passage by congress next winter of the Littlefield bill, which will give prohibitionists power to stop shipments of liquors from other states and territories.

WANT CAR-LOAD RATE ON MIXED WET GOODS

Case to Be Brought Before Interstate Commerce Body Because Two Kinds of Liquor Do Not Go for Carload Rate.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Sept. 16.—Several important and interesting cases are to come before the Interstate Commerce commission, which began a series of hearings in Chicago today. The first case on the calendar, and one in which nearly all the large shippers of more than one class of freight are directly interested, is the complaint brought by the Milwaukee-Waukesha Brewing company against the St. Paul and other railroads. The brewing company desires to get a ruling which will compel the railroads to grant carload rates for mixed articles. Under existing rules of the roads no carload rates are given where two or more kinds of articles are shipped by the same concern in one car. Tomorrow the association will take up the case of the Chicago Sash and Door association against the Norfolk & Western, and other railroads in which unreasonable rates on sash and doors from Chicago to West Virginia points are charged, and also the novel case of Theron F. Miller of Michigan City, Ind., against the Michigan Central railroad company, in which the question is raised whether the commission can compel railroads to charge no more than the maximum state rates upon interstate travel. ## SHERMAN LAW HARD ON RETAIL DRUGGISTS

Small Dealers Believe Wholesalers Get Benefit under Anti-Trust Law.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Sept. 16.—The members of the National Association of Retail Druggists don't like the Sherman anti-trust law and at their annual convention which opened here today a resolution will be passed urging upon congress the necessity for amending it. The association believes that large monopolies in the drug business are favored rather than prevented by the Sherman law, while on the other hand the small retail dealers in drugs are injured by being prevented by the law from making trade agreements among themselves to protect their small interests from the monopolies.

MODERNISM SUBJECT OF AN ENCYCLICAL

Organ of the Vatican at Rome Publishes an Important Document Today.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, Sept. 16.—The Osservatore Romano, the organ of the Vatican today issued an important encyclical of Pope Pius X on "Modernism" which really is the completion of his recent syllabus. The document sets forth that modernism is the serious danger to the church. It is taken up in detail and various features of modernism are discussed. It condemns it as dangerous in philosophy, faith, theology, history, criticism and reforms, and arrives at the conclusion that modernism is the synthesis of all heresy which must logically lead to atheism.

OKLAHOMA STATEHOOD WILL BE ADOPTED BY TERRITORIES

Indian Territory And Oklahoma Vote On Adoption Of Stringent Constitution Tomorrow--Prohibition Clause.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 16.—Tomorrow the people of Oklahoma and Indian Territory will vote to accept or reject the constitution which, if accepted, will admit these communities to the union as the state of Oklahoma. At the same time the people will vote on the introduction of liquor into the state, being provided for. The enabling act provided that Indian Territory must accept prohibition for twenty-one years. The convention provided that the whole state shall vote on the question and there is said to be little doubt that the terms of the enabling act will be made uniform over the whole state. The recent action of Georgia in prohibiting the sale of liquor is expected to help the prohibition issue in Oklahoma. The constitution is about three times as long as the average document of its kind. This unusual length is in part explained by the fact that about one-third of the document is taken up with fixing county boundaries, another large section is devoted to defining how the question of prohibition shall be submitted to the vote of the people, while another long section relates to the principle of the initiative and referendum. Among the more or less interesting provisions contained in the remainder of the document are the following: The legal rate of interest is fixed at 6 per cent and the contract rate at 10 per cent. A compulsory and separate school system is established. Commissioners are created on labor and arbitration, charities, insurance, railroads, agriculture, oil, gas and mines. The state seal adopted is a combination of the present seal of Oklahoma and the seals of the nations of the Five Civilized Tribes. While the vote on the constitution is naturally regarded as of most importance, the contests for state officers and members of congress have been of a spirited character and are attracting much attention on the eve of the election. The democratic gubernatorial candidate, whose followers are confident will be elected tomorrow by a handsome plurality, is C. N. Haskell, a newspaper publisher of Muskogee. The republican standard-bearer is Frank Frazier, who is at present governor of Oklahoma Territory, under appointment of President Roosevelt. The constitution contains several features that embody the latest ideas of the subject of government by the people—namely, the initiative and referendum and nomination of officers by direct primary instead of through caucuses.

New York, Sept. 16.—A case of virulent tetanus, or lockjaw, has been cured by doctors of the Williamsburg (Brooklyn) hospital. There are, it is said, only two similar cases on record. Six weeks Mrs. Annette Koestling, of Williamsburg, was apparently in the first stages of lockjaw from a wound from a rusty nail. Her agony was so intense that she was removed to the hospital. A council of physicians agreed that her case was hopeless. Nevertheless Dr. Henderson of the house staff injected anti-toxin and has done so every day since. A month passed without apparent results. The treatment began to show signs of success about a week ago. On Friday Mrs. Koestling was allowed to leave her bed and she will soon leave the hospital. Buy it in Janesville.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, really point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the lungs, and the stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerve that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.
If your back aches or is weak, if the urine presents an abnormal odor, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative month-do for you. Druggists recommend and sell it.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION DAMAGES FARM HOUSE

Fourteen-year-old Girl's Life in Danger but She Escaped from House to Call Help.

Impending the life of a fourteen-year-old and damaging the farmhouse of James P. Newman, six miles south of the city on rural route No. 3 to the extent of $200, were the results of a gasoline stove explosion that would have completely destroyed the house had it not been for the presence of mild of the young girl who called four tobacco hands from a nearby field to the scene. Burning gasoline came near striking the girl as the stove blew up which immediately set fire to the house. The tobacco hands arrived at the house before the blaze had progressed very far and with pieces of carpet they extinguished the flames that had already damaged the woodwork, furniture and carpets of the house. The accident occurred last Thursday when everyone was away from home except the young heroine.

FIFTY GUESTS OF MRS. J. B. HUMPHREY

Summer Club of Household Economics Held Its Final Session Near Afton Last Week.

Fifty members of the Summer Club of Household Economics were driven last Thursday to the country home of Mrs. J. B. Humphrey, near Afton, where Mrs. George Osgood presided over the final regular meeting for the season. Committees were appointed for the mid-winter meeting and also for an entertainment which is to be given early next spring. The splendid menu prepared under the direction of Mrs. Deniston was thoroughly appre-

Mrs. Fannie Manger, the exhibit of homemade Christmas gifts by Mrs.
C. E. Oils, and Mrs. Humphrey's preparations for the comfort and enjoyment of her guests.

FORMER RESIDENT HURT IN CHICAGO

Louis Daly, Extra Conductor on Illinois Central, Lost an Arm
Saturday.

Word was received on Saturday last announcing a serious accident had befallen Lou Daly, a former Janesville resident, now residing in Chicago, and employed as an extra conductor by the Illinois Central road. His mother, Mrs. Mary Daly, who resides on South Pearl street, and a sister, Mrs. William Tiffany of Plattville, hurried to Chicago, where the injured man was being cared for. At noon yesterday a telephone message announced that one arm had been cut off near the shoulder but that he was resting easier. No details of the accident have been obtained and it is thought he fell beneath his train in the Chicago yards. Mr. Daly was employed here by the North-Western road before going to Chicago.

Ball Game in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 16.—During the St.
Louis-Detroit American league baseball game Sunday Umpire Evans was struck on the head by a soda water bottle thrown by a spectator and was painfully injured, but it is expected he will be out again in a few days. The thrower of the bottle, a lad of 17 years, who declares he had no intention of hitting the umpire, is under arrest.
The large crowd in attendance expressed strong disfavor for the act, but the speedy arrival of policemen prevented trouble.

LINK AND PIN TURNTABLE FOR NEW YARDS ARRIVED TODAY

Excavation About Finished for 76-Foot Table That Will Be Installed Soon.

Another step toward the completion of the new North-Western sorting yards was made today by the arrival of the 76-foot turntable. The table was shipped here on two flat cars and will be taken out to the new yards this afternoon or tomorrow morning. Work on the excavation for the large turntable is about finished and the pit will be ready for the installation of the table within a week or two. This piece of machinery, which is nearly as long as two freight cars and weighs many tons, was manufactured by the King Bridge company of Cleveland, Ohio.
The table at the present roundhouse is only 64 feet long. One of the large passenger engines from the Chicago, Milwaukee & Omaha road was put in the local roundhouse a year ago this summer but could not be turned on the table as the roundhouse was the combined length of the engine and tender was some six feet more than the table. The 76-foot table about to be put in is calculated to turn the largest engines on the system.

BUTTERFLY FARMS

The first "butterfly farm" is said to have recently been established at Eastbourne, England, and already there is talk of starting this industry in France and other countries. There is really no need of anything of this kind in Wisconsin for bread made from HEN HUR FLOUR is so good and wholesome that it makes the butter fly in almost every home in Janesville. One mother said that her boys were ill and she had to stop butter for the bulk of their meals, whereas they were formerly very critical about everything they ate—all because she now uses HEN HUR FLOUR.

Bandits in Guanajuato.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 16.—A telegram received Sunday from Dwight Furness of Furnessville, Ind., who is United States consul at Guanajuato, Mexico, tells of the murder there by Mexican bandits of George Rose, an American, tance.

STANDING OF CLUBS.

Rockford	8	1	889
Janesville	4	5	444
Beloit	4	5	444
Belvidere	2	7	222

Rockford defeated Janesville by the narrow margin of 3 to 2 in a splendid game played at the Forest City yesterday. Three hundred and forty Harlem Park tickets were sold at Bellevue's drugstore and the majority of those who went on the excursion were spectators of the contest. The attendance at the game was about 1,000.
Aldo pitched in the game, only four hits being made off his delivery, and but one error was made by the local players.

Beloit and Janesville have each won four games and a great battle is expected at Yost's park next Sunday. It is reported on good authority that both teams will be largely made up of players from the Wisconsin state league which ends its season next Wednesday.

Beloit won its game with Belvidere yesterday, 10 to 3.

AN OLD SAYING.

Showing How Cause And Effect Are Never Far Removed.
It is an old saying "Where there's honey there's bees"—not less true is one which science has coined more recently, "Where there's Dandruff there's dandruff"—and to push the inference still further we may truly say "Where there's Dandruff cured Newbro's Herpicide has been at work."

The reason of Herpicide's isolation as a genuine cure for Dandruff lies in the fact that it attacks and destroys the root of the whole trouble—a parasitic germ which feeds upon the material which nourishes the hair follicle.

Other so-called remedies are not directed at this true cause of the disease.

VALUE OF FARM PRODUCTS.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson estimates that the farm products, this year, will be worth between $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 more than last year and last year they were officially reported by Mr. Wilson's department at $1,500,000,000.

This fact is pointed out by Henry Clows, the New York banker, in sizing up the financial outlook. Speaking of the railroad situation, he says: "It is significant also that railroad returns are keeping up with remarkable tenacity. Returns for the month of July are now available for 37 railroads, which show an increase of $9,782,100 in gross, equivalent to an increase of nearly 16 per cent."

The operating expenses, however, cut the net earnings down to $322,000, which is but 4 per cent above the figures of a year ago. This shows that there is as yet no decline either in the price of labor or material, and that while the railroads are doing an enormous business they are doing it without sufficient net results—a fact that the common sense and fairness of the American people will not permit state legislatures to ignore in their attempted enforcement of confiscatory transportation rates.

The decision of a lower court of Pennsylvania that the two-cent rate law of that state is unconstitutional is a step in the right direction; it will be carried to the higher court, but the case loses particular importance as a precedent for other states in that it deals with the Pennsylvania railroad's charter, which is of a particularly broad and liberal character."

The railroads, as well as the great industries of the country, are confronted with conditions, so peculiar, that they are unable to meet them, and so an era of retrenchment has already commenced, and its effects will be felt in all parts of the country, by the close of the year.

In spite of the crop movement, which taxes the capacity of all roads, the companies are unable to secure money for extensions and betterments, and so the steel mills and great railway supply factories, will be out of business, as soon as present orders are filled.

This means enforced idleness for many men, who have had steady employment, at good wages for years. The great shrinkage in railroad and industrial stocks, is the cause of this depression, for public confidence has been destroyed, and this class of securities, which have always been regarded gilt-edged, are a drug on the market. It is difficult to forecast the outcome, but it is a good time to go slow and be conservative.

WHAT IS CAPITAL?

The notion is more or less common that when a man has plenty of money he has an abundance of capital, and is ready to meet any emergency. This is only half true, for unless the element of confidence is associated with it, the power of money is limited.

Capital is money or collateral plus confidence, with large emphasis on the plus. The average bank is solvent and runs along year after year without commotion, yet the strongest of these institutions are never in position to meet the demands of all depositors if made in a single day.

The confidence of the community to such an extent that the government considers them safe with a twenty-five per cent reserve.

Most of the businessmen and manufacturers of the country would find themselves bankrupt, if called on to meet all liabilities in cash on short notice. They enjoy the confidence of creditors, and use it freely as a part of their working capital.

Those facts are so well recognized that no argument is necessary, and yet this item of confidence, so necessary to success and prosperity, is being maligned and abused more today than at any time in history.

Money may be lost and driven into retirement, but confidence may be hopelessly destroyed. When this happens the busy wheels of industry stand still, and hardship follows.

The capitalists of Baltimore have invested some 200 millions in the south, and the attitude of some of the states leads Governor Warfield of Maryland to ask the question, whether the confidence that induced these men to invest their money, in southern enterprises, shall be destroyed, because of the attitude of certain people of the south, toward corporate interests.

It is a pertinent question, and applies with equal force to many other states, for we are living at a time when state rights are exercised to the limit in dealing with problems which are vital to the welfare of the nation.

It is popular to denounce such men as Morgan, Hill and Rockefeller, without thought or consideration. We are proud of the fact that the nation has more than 200,000 miles of railroad, in successful operation, but overlook the more important fact that not a man of us ever contributed a dollar to the enterprise.

These great highways are neither planned nor built by farmers, businessmen, nor professional men. They are products of the brain and ability of the despised class known as capitalists of industry. Men who command not only money, but confidence, and who are prompted to invest freely in an enterprise which has done more to develop the nation, than all other enterprises combined.

During the civil war there was a limited number of men known as capitalists, because of disloyalty. There are more disloyal people living in this country today, than ever before. Many of them are visions and more are ignorant, but all of them are engaged in efforts to break down and destroy the bulwark of confidence, which protects the nation, and makes it strong.

Recent legislation, in many states, is of this character, and is a disgrace to the intelligence of the people.

It is easier to tear down and destroy, than to build up, and we seem possessed with a mania of destruction.

While the nation may need reforming, along some lines, it needs protecting more than it needs reformation. Money is often difficult to accumulate, but confidence gained is easy to retain when appreciated, and 90 per cent of the working capital of the country is confidence.

Every man owes it to himself to use every honorable effort to better his condition in life. Individual merit and ability is the basis of capital, and the only foundation on which self-made character is built. The man who depends on a union for strength and support, is frequently disappointed, because the organization is overloaded with a lot of dead wood, not capable of standing alone.

Another wreck on the Boston & Maine railroad is added to the long list of the year's catastrophes. Some employees forgot, and many lives were sacrificed, as the penalty. Railroad management will continue to be justly criticised, so long as these conditions exist. Less speed and more safety, should be the universal demand.

There will be harmony, in the camp of the faithful, if every one bows the knee to the supreme dictator, the same sort of peace that the lamb enjoyed when he reposed in the stomach of the lion.

The republican editors of Kansas recently expressed their preference for president. The straw ballot gave Taft 153 and Wisconsin's favorite son 19. There's a difference.

PRESS COMMENT.

Is Taking Care of Foreign-Born.
Holt Free Press: Holt's school enrollment exceeds the combined count in Clinton and Janesville. Clinton has 206, Janesville 2,130 and Holt 2,770.

Likes the Home Throne Best.
Rockford Register-Gazette: Mrs. Potter Palmer, who has come home, denies she is going to marry the King of Serbia. The job of Queen of Chosen continues to look pretty good to Mrs. Palmer.

Pretty Reliable Just the Same.
La Crosse Tribune: Weather Observer Thompson says the striking telegraphers are tampering with the wires that carry the weather report. It has long been suspected that these wires were tampered with.

Both Shrewd and Justifiable.
Waupaca Post: Milwaukee hotels did not double prices during the fair week; they just made over a guest, either double up with another guest, or else pay double for the privilege of having a room to himself.

Happy Waupaca!
Waupaca Record: An exchange says that the number of automobiles owned by the citizens of a town is an indication of its prosperity. Our babies show Waupaca to be very prosperous and we can not boast of one automobile.

Let's See the Figures.
Holt Free Press: There can be but little doubt that Holt exceeds Janesville today in bank deposits. It is simply the case of a growing, hustling, prosperous city against one that refuses to awake to the opportunities of the times.

Enough Provocation, Surely.
Green Bay Gazette: Marquette milk dealers have decided to raise the price of their product to seven cents a quart after the fifteenth of the month. Some of the northern folks may decide to drink their water without any coloring matter at all by that time.

The Knocks That Boast.
Neenah Times: Our esteemed friend of The Milwaukee Journal is jumping on to William J. Bryan like unto a hawk on a June bug. This is somewhat encouraging for Mr. Bryan. Of late years about every candidate opposed by The Journal has won out, vide Rose, Peck, Wells, et al.

Peck For Democratic Nominee.
Madison Times: The Catholic Citizen puts in a good word for Ex-Governor Geo. W. Peck for the democratic nomination for Mayor of Milwaukee. The democrats in Milwaukee could not make a better selection. His nomination would be an honor to the party and his election would give that city a capable and creditable chief executive, something the beer city has not had for many a day.

Sentiment Is For Taft.
Superior Telegram: A poll of the republican editors of Kansas shows that 159 out of 197 reporting are for Taft for president with Hughes as the second choice of 50 and the third choice of 36. La Follette is the first choice of 19, the second choice of 33 and the third choice of 23. Of those 197 editors 99 declare that Roosevelt should accept a renomination. Of this there is no prospect whatever at present. Taft is his choice and beyond doubt would be the nominee of the convention if it were held next month.

Wisdom From The Bench.
Prussian Judges Deliver Strange but Sensible Decisions.

The court at Schenck was sitting to hear licensing cases, and especially pleas by the local saloonkeepers for an extension of the closing hour from 11 to 12:30. The saloonkeepers were supported by a great number of witnesses who testified that the whole town was for the change to the later hour. The judges retired to consider and when they appeared their chairman said: "We shall into great pleasure in granting the extension, but the plea must be supported by the signatures of at least ten married women."

The saloonkeepers and their adherents have since been engaged in a fruitless search for these ten signatures. At Dortmund there was a girl with her baby before the court claiming support from a man whom she alleged was its father. The man denied the paternity and in a voluble manner, in reply to the questions of the court, pointed out the differences between his own features and those of the infant. "You're the father right enough," said the judge. "If you were not you would know nothing of the baby's looks. Twenty marks ($5) a month."

AIR FAMINE AND ITS EFFECTS.
People Slow In Recognizing Importance of Pure Air.

As buildings are now constructed and overheated, many people have to spend at least a part of their waking hours in a fetid atmosphere, says a writer in The Delineator. But there is no excuse for sleeping in such an atmosphere. We spend one-third of our lives in sleep; we also breathe more deeply when asleep than when awake, and we should sleep in the open air, or as near to it as possible. Walk through a residence street at night and look at the bedroom windows; they are all tightly closed. Occasionally one is a stinky three or four inches down from the top. This is done by some advanced individual to let out the bad air. If all the bad air went out of that room there would be no air left. There should be no bad air in a bedroom. Every window and door of the bedroom should stand wide open every night in the year. The air should be the same inside as outside. While asleep the lungs should be connected with outside air just as they are when we walk the street. Sufficient covering should be used to keep the body warm at night just as we put on sufficient clothing to keep it warm when we go outside. Only the face is exposed under both conditions.

Filling the Plate.
A negro preacher whose supply of food was running low decided to take radical steps to impress upon his flock the necessity for contributing liberally to the church exchequer. Accordingly, at the close of the sermon, he made an impressive pause, and then proceeded as follows: "I had found it necessary, on account of the stringency of the hard times, to do general deficiency of the church box. It is so arranged that a half dollar or a quarter falls on a red plush cushion without noise; a nickel will ding a small bell distinctly heard by do congregation, and a suspender button, my fellow members, will flash off a pistol; so you will go'n' yo'selves accordingly. Let de election now proceed, w'ile I takes off me hat an' gibs out a hyun."

Curiosities in Divorce.

Some curious facts appear from an international table of divorce statistics that has been published in Paris. From this it appears that the little cosmopolitan known as Switzerland is pro rata most prolific in divorce, the numbers being 40 per thousand marriages. France follows with 21, and Germany comes next with 17 per thousand. In France divorces have grown from 1,879 in 1881 to 14,692 in 1904. It also appears that nearly twice as many women are divorced as men on the ground of misconduct, not that men are more virtuous but that they have more opportunities of concealment, and women are readier to forgive.

India's Sacred Trees.
There are many sacred trees of India which enter largely into the religious life of the Hindus. Chief among these is the neem tree and the trembling poplar. Nearly all the higher hills and rocks in the plains are crowned each by a temple, shrine or sacred tree. The poplar is known as the king of trees. It is the most holy, and the three great spirits of the Hindus dwell therein. The worship of the tree is the worship of the triad Brahma, Shiva and Vishnu. Almost every Indian village has its peepul tree, with a raised platform or altar around it. The devout remove their shoes before it and make obeisance before proceeding on their way.

FATHER VAUGHAN IS TO MAKE HOME HERE

Oak Lawn Property Recently Purchased by Father Goebel Will Be Converted Into Country Home for Him.

The Oak Lawn hospital property, including buildings and 4½ acres of ground, which was sold to Rev. Fr. W. A. Goebel a fortnight ago is to be converted into a country home for Rev. Father L. J. Vaughan, the eminent lecturer who delivered a notable sermon at St. Mary's Catholic church in this city yesterday morning. The building is being remodeled to suit the needs of the new owner and when the work is completed he will give up his residence in Altoona, Wis., and move his effects to Janesville. The lecture platform now demands a large part of Father Vaughan's time but this will not prevent him from lending material assistance to Father Goebel in fulfilling the additional duties which the head of a growing congregation is called upon to perform.

LIMB FRACTURED BY A VALUABLE RACER

Charles Heidles' Little Trotter Caught Foot in Railway Crossing and Fell Saturday Evening.

While Charles Heidles was driving on North Jackson street about seven o'clock Saturday evening, his little four-year-old trotter caught a foot between the track and plank on the C. & N. W. Ry. Co.'s crossing and fell, breaking three bones just above the ankle. Dr. Little who was summoned, hung the mare up on a sling and placed a plaster of Paris cast about the broken limb. Recovery is a matter of considerable doubt. "Mangle Partridge" was the mare's dam and she is a standard bred racer of considerable promise, value at not less than $500.

A Massachusetts court holds that a certificate of deposit in designed to circulate as money like bills of the bank and to be used for convenience and safety. That is all we claim for them and the court decision clinches the matter. They are the only form of money that draw interest from date and like any other form they are redeemable on demand. Like money in your pocket the bank can not be garnished, for whoever they may have been issued to the bank has no means of knowing to whom they may at present belong. They are convenient because of their easy negotiability and safe because they must be properly endorsed before we will pay them.

The Opal Serpent

By FERGUS HUME,

Author of "The Mystery of a Hansom Cab," "The Mandarin's Fan," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

"No, indeed, I should think not, begging your pardon, sir. But when you comes here six months back, I see to Miss Sylvia, I see, 'He's making eyes at you, my boy, and she sees to me, she says, 'Oh, Debby, I love him, that I do.' And then I see, six months back, she looks a great deal better, but that's the worst kind, so we'll find out if he's a liar before you lose your dear heart to him."

"But I'm not a liar," began Paul, only to be cut short again.

"As well I know," burst out Miss Junk, her arms akimbo again. "Do you think, sir, as I'd let you come loving my pretty one and me not knowing if it was Judas or Jezebel? Not me, if I never drank my nightly drop of beer again. What you told Miss Sylvia of your frigate and your loving-ma she told me. Pumping you may call it," shouted Deborah, emphasizing again with the red finger, "but "The opal serpent! The opal serpent!" he cried.

these years I've never heard a young step on them stairs, since Miss Sylvia's and Bart's, him having come five years ago, and a brat he was. And would you believe it, Mr. Beecot, I know no more of the old man than you do. He's queer, and he's wrong altogether, and that frightened of being alone in the dark as you could make him a corp with a turnip lantern."

"What is he afraid of?"

"Ah," said Deborah significantly, "what indeed? It may be police and it may be ghosts; but, ghosts or police, he never sees what he oughter see if he's a respectable man, which I sudy fear he isn't."

"He may have his reasons to"— Miss Junk tossed her head and snorted again loudly. "Oh, yes—he has his reasons," she admitted, "and Old Bailey ones they are, I desay. But there's something 'naging over his head. Don't ask me what it is, for never shall you know, by reason of my being ignorant. But whatever it is, Mr. Beecot, it's something wicked, and shall I see my own pretty in trouble?"

"How do you know there will be trouble?" interrupted Paul anxiously.

"I've heard him pray," said Miss Junk mysteriously—"yes, you may look, for there ain't no prayer in the crafty eye of him—but pray he do, and asks to be kept from danger!"

"Danger?"

"Dunger's the word, for I won't deceive you, no, not if you paid me better wages than the old man do give and he's as near as the parking of an onion. So I see to Bart, if there's danger and trouble and Old Bailey about, the sooner Miss Sylvia have some dear man to give her a decent name and protect her the more happy old Deborah will be."

"Yes, yes, I see. Well, Deborah, you can depend upon my looking after your pretty mistress, if I were only reconciled with my father I would speak to Mr. Norman."

"Don't, sir—don't!" cried the woman fiercely, and making a clutch at Paul's arm; "he'll turn you out, he will, not being anxious for any one to have my flower, though love her as he oughter do, he don't, no," cried Deborah, "nor her ma before her, who died with a starvin' heart. But you run away with my sweetest and make her your own, though her pa swears thunderbolts as you may say. Take her from this place of wickedness and police courts." And Deborah looked around the cellar with a shudder. Suddenly she started and held up her finger, nodding toward a narrow door at the side of the cellar. "Master's footstep," she said in a hush whisper. "I'd know it in a thousand—just like a thief's, ain't it?—stealing as you might say. Don't tell him you've seen me."

"But Sylvia," cried Paul, catching her dress as she passed him.

"Her you'll see, if I do for it," said Deborah, and whisked up the wooden steps in a silent manner surprising in so noisy a woman. Paul heard the trapdoor drop with a stealthy creak.

As a key grated in the lock of the outside door he glanced round the place to which he had penetrated for the first time. It was of the same size as the shop overhead, but the walls were of stone, green with slime and feathers with a kind of ghastly white fungus. Overhead, from the door of the shop, hung innumerable spiders' webs thick with dust. The floor was of large flags cracked in many places, and between the cracks in moist corners sprouted sparse, colorless grass. In the center was a deal table, scored with queer marks and splattered with ink. Over this stared two gas jets, which whistled shrilly. Against the wall, which was below the street, were three green painted safes fast locked; but the opposite wall had in it the narrow door aforesaid, and a wide grated window, the bars of which were rusty, though strong. The atmosphere of the place was cold and musty and suggestive of a charnel house. Certainly a strange place in which to transact business, but everything about Aaron Norman was strange.

"I'm glad enough to see her marry any one respectable, let alone a gent. Mr. Beecot, twenty years ago, a slip of ten, I come to us the baby as was my loving angel upstairs, and her ma had just passed away to join them as lives overhead playing harps. All

"And he looked strange himself as he stepped in at the open door. Beyond, Paul could see the shallow flight of damp steps leading to the yard and the passage which gave admission from the street. Norman locked the door and came forward. He was as white as a sheet, and his face was thickly bedewed with perspiration. His mouth twitched more than usual, and his hands moved nervously. Twice as he advanced toward Paul, who rose to receive him, did he cast the odd look over his shoulder. Beecot fancifully saw in him a man who had committed some crime and was fearful lest it should be discovered or lest the avenger should suddenly appear. Deborah's confidential talk had not been without its effect on the young man, and Paul beheld in Aaron a being of mystery. How such a man came to have such a daughter as Sylvia Paul could not guess.

"Here you are, Mr. Beecot," said Aaron, rubbing his hands as though the cold of the cellar struck to his bones. "Well?"

"I want to pawn a brooch," said Beecot, and he pulled out the case from his pocket. "A friend of mine would have bought it, but as it belongs to my mother I prefer to pawn it so that I may get it again when I am rich."

"Well, well," said Aaron abruptly and resuming his dovetail looks, "I shall do what I can. Let me see it."

He stretched out his hand and took the case. Slowly opening it under the gas, he inspected its contents. Suddenly he gave a cry of alarm, and the case fell to the floor. "The opal serpent! The opal serpent!" he cried, growing purple in the face. "Keep off! Keep off!" He bent the air with his lean hands. "Oh, the opal!" and he fell face downward on the slimy floor in a fit or a faint, but certainly unconscious.

ODD FELLOWS IN ST. PAUL

GATHER FOR CONVENTION OF THE SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE.

Grand Parade on Wednesday—Denver Already Working to Secure Next Annual Meeting.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—The visiting members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, who are in St. Paul to attend the eighty-third annual convention of the sovereign grand lodge, which opens Monday, attended special services at People's church Sunday morning, where the pastor, Rev. Samuel G. Smith, preached.

It is estimated that only about 1,000 out of town members of the order had arrived Sunday evening, but several thousand are expected to come Monday. The maximum attendance will probably be reached on Wednesday, when the annual parade will take place. Fifteen thousand are expected to be in line.

The formal opening of the sovereign grand lodge will take place Monday morning at Central Presbyterian church. Gov. John A. Johnson will deliver an address of welcome on behalf of Minnesota, while Mayor Robert A. Smith will welcome the visitors on behalf of the city of St. Paul. In the afternoon the companies that will take part in the competitive drills will be inspected by Gen. M. A. Raney, in command of the Patriarch Militant.

In the evening a reception will be held at the new state capitol in honor of Gov. Johnson and the officers and members of the sovereign grand lodge. Odd Fellows from Denver are already at work to secure the next annual convention for their city. No officers will be elected this year, but the sovereign grand lodge will consider the proposed revision of the ritual and the proposition to reduce the age of admission from 21 to 18 years.

Friends of the former president say his general health at present is better than at any time during the past summer. He is still subject to indigestion, but has not had an attack lately. He is also gouty at times, but it is not considered serious as it only affects him in one foot.

EXPLOSION IN GEORGIA MINE.

Several Lives Reported to Be Lost in Accident.

Washington, Ga., Sept. 16.—Information was received here Sunday of a disastrous explosion at the Columbia gold mine, just across the river in the county. It is stated that the explosion was the result of a premature discharge of a charge of dynamite and caused the loss of several lives. Telephone lines to the mine are out of order and details are not available.

Prominent Louisville Man a Suicide.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 16.—While members of the household were attending church services Sunday William Harrison, 63 years old, for many years vice president of the Bradley & Gilbert Printing company, and for 30 years a deacon of the Broadway Baptist church, fired a bullet through his body at his home, 1212 First street. He died 15 minutes later. Ill health and the recent suicides of former Mayor Paul Barth and Charles Vogt, both his close friends, are attributed as the cause.

TWENTY-FOUR DIE IN RAILWAY WRECK

TERRIBLE COLLISION OCCURS NEAR CANAAN STATION, VT.

THE INJURED NUMBER 27

Passenger and Freight on Boston & Maine Crash Together—Confusion of Orders Blamed for Disaster.

White River Junction, Vt., Sept. 16.—A fearful head-on collision between the south-bound Quebec express and a north-bound freight train on the Concord division of the Boston & Maine railroad occurred four miles north of Canaan Station early Sunday, due to a mistake in train dispatcher's orders, and from a demolished passenger coach there were taken out 25 dead and dying and 27 other passengers, most of them seriously wounded.

Nearly all those who were in the death car were returning from a fair at Sherbrooke, Quebec, 60 miles north.

The conductor of the freight train was given to understand that he had plenty of time to reach a siding by the night operator at Canaan Station, receiving, according to the superintendent of the division, a copy of a telegraph order from the train dispatcher at Concord which confused the train numbers 30 and 34.

The wreck occurred just after the express had rounded into a straight stretch of track, but owing to the early morning mist neither engineer saw the other's headlight until it was too late.

Names of Identified Dead.

Those identified up to six o'clock Sunday night were as follows: Timothy Shaughnessy, Chas. Har, Quebec; Mrs. Shaughnessy; Miss Annie St. Pierre, Isle Verte, Quebec; Fred M. Phelps, Ochiltree, Tex.; Mrs. A. E. Warren, Haverhill, Mass.; Mrs. F. C. Blake, South Corinth, Vt.; Mrs. Margaret Lacey, Manchester, N. H.; Miss Barrett, Manchester; Mrs. Philip Gagnon, Sherbrooke; Miss Alvina Giron, Nashua; Mrs. Webster, a dressmaker living in Massachusetts; J. L. Congrot, Somerville, Mass.; Infant child of Irving Gifford, Concord, N. H.; Mrs. E. L. Briggs, West Canaan, N. H.; John G. Duncan, Bethel, Vt.

The freight train was on a straight piece of track, about a mile in length, and the Quebec express had rounded the curve into this stretch when each engineer saw the headlights of the opposite train burst out of the fog. Both set their brakes and then jumped, while the two great locomotives crashed into each other and, locked in a firm embrace, rolled into the ditch.

Crowded Car Telescoped.

The baggage car in the rear was hurled back into the passenger coach like a great ram and tore it asunder from end to end. The ill-fated passenger coach was crowded with more than 60 people. Shortly before the accident a few of the men had gone back into the smoking car in the rear, leaving the women to get a little sleep in the straight seats. One of those who escaped said that as the train was rounding a curve some one in the front of the car began to sing, so that nearly every one was awake when the crash came. Those who were in the other cars hurled to the demolished passenger coach, where groans, cries and shrieks were rending the air.

Fortunately, with the engines off to one side, the wreckage did not take fire. The train hands, ably seconded by the passengers from the sleeping cars, groped their way among the ruins and began the work of rescue. Wounds were hastily bound up and cuts staunchly by strips of bedding from the sleepers. The little band worked diligently in the dawning light before the doctors came.

The neighborhood is a sparsely settled one, but the few farmers were aroused and lent every aid to the work of succor. In the meantime word had been dispatched to this place and to Concord and Hanover and within an hour a large force of physicians was on their way to the wreck.

Montreal Express Saved.

The accident was not without its heroes and one of these was Frank Ryan, a brakeman on the express. Ryan was caught in the wreck and had an artery severed. He was unconscious for nearly 15 minutes and when he regained his senses his first thought was of the Montreal express, which he knew was thundering down on the wreck, with no brakeman in the rear to wave a warning signal. In a few words Ryan told of the approaching danger and the Montreal express was stopped only a quarter of a mile from the rear of the wrecked train.

Farmer Finds Mother's Body.

Among the West Canaan farmers who aided was Benjamin Briggs, who was one of the first at the scene, and two hours later he drew out the body of a woman. On turning up the face Mr. Briggs looked into the features of his mother, and almost collapsed from grief. Mrs. Briggs had been visiting friends in the north and was on her way to Boston.

German Miners Blown Up.

Forbach, Germany, Sept. 16.—Four persons were killed and three dangerously injured in a fire-damp explosion in the Merlenbach mine at midnight, Saturday night. At first it was reported that a large number of persons had been killed, but it is certain that only 12 men descended into the pit and of these five escaped.

PEOPLE OF PARIS ARE INDIGNANT

SAVING OF SOLEILLANT FROM GUILLOTINE STIRS WRATH.

FALLIERES IS SCORED

Public Demonstrations of Angry Populace Takes Form of Parades—Police Unable to Check Crime Wave.

Paris, Sept. 16.—The increasing indignation of the masses against the escape from the guillotine of Soleillant, known as the "monstrous violator and murderer," whose sentence to death for the atrocious murder of a 12-year-old girl was commuted last week by President Fallieres to life imprisonment, was expressed Sunday in a series of the most curious public manifestations that have occurred in France for a long time.

The demonstration, despite the fact that several arrests were made, was almost entirely an orderly one. Many women participated. It was organized not so much against Soleillant, as to express the voice of the populace against the wave of unspeakable crimes committed on little girls which lately has increased to an alarming degree and which it is feared the commutation of the sentence of Soleillant will only stimulate.

Parades in Various Quarters.

Several thousand persons were engaged in demonstrations at various points of the city, and especially large was the crowd in the Place St. Andre, near which lived little Martha Erberding, the victim of Soleillant. The rage of the women of this district has been great since President Fallieres showed clemency to Soleillant. They assembled Sunday afternoon with their husbands and sympathizers and were augmented in numbers by crowds of curious persons. Their orderly cries for justice were quickly changed to cries of "Death to Soleillant!" and "Down with Fallieres!" as the procession, led by a woman who carried a little girl on her shoulders with the purpose of indicating the object of the manifestation, moved toward the Place De La Republique.

Soon the streets were choked by a vast mob, and the police reserves were called out to disperse it. The parade, however, assembled again, and several of the more violent demonstrators were arrested.

Meanwhile other parades had been organized in different quarters of the city, one in the Place Vendome, at the ministry of justice. This, also, was led by a woman with a babe on her shoulders. The crowd shouted "Death to violators." At nightfall this parade was dispersed by the police, who feared that with darkness disorder would break out. Smaller processions traversed the grand boulevards of the city.

Newspapers Score Fallieres.

The newspapers of Paris are devoting great space to the Soleillant case. Many of them loudly condemn the failure of Fallieres to permit the law to take its course, and all of them agree that the commutation of this sentence signifies the passing forever of the guillotine from France. Some of the journals express the opinion that the escape of Soleillant from the guillotine only places a premium on crime.

The entire question of crime will be taken up at the approaching session of parliament; especially as Paris with other large cities are becoming alarmingly infested with another type of criminal known as the "Apache," who in secluded sections almost daily maim and rob and sometimes murder their victims. Their weapon always is the knife and, gathering in bands, they often wantonly stab pedestrians, and frequently policemen merely for the sake of stabbing.

M. Touny, director of the Paris police, declared Sunday that his force was entirely insufficient to cope with the situation. He recommended the adoption of corporal punishment for law-breakers as an offset to comfortable and inviting prisons.

LADS BLOWN TO PIECES.

Three Michigan Boys Use Dynamite Storehouse as a Target.

Cheboygan, Mich., Sept. 16.—Three young hunters were killed in a dynamite explosion Sunday, when they mistook a dynamite storehouse in the woods for a deserted hut and used it for a target.

The dead are: Bert Simmons, aged 18; Clifford Simmons, aged 17, (Bert's brother), and Leslie Elbert, aged 18. The storehouse contained 14 packages of dynamite, each containing 25 pounds. Parts of Elbert's body were found, but the other two boys were blown to atoms.

Chinese Towns in Revolt.

Hong Kong, Sept. 16.—Mooze, Mok and Pankol, market towns in the Kwai-Zum district of the Chun-Chow prefecture, report simultaneous uprisings of natives. The insurgents bore banners on which were inscribed, "The people are driven by the officials to rise."

S.S.S. CURES CHRONIC ULCERS

Chronic Ulcers are the result of a deeply polluted and foul blood supply. The blood is filled with impurities and germs which are being constantly fed into the place through the circulation, until all the surrounding flesh becomes diseased and the sore an obstinate and permanent trouble. Every symptom of an old ulcer suggests pollution; the discharge, the red, angry looking flesh, the inflammation and discoloration of surrounding parts, all show that the ulcer is prevented from healing by the constant drainage through it of impurities from the blood. This impure condition of the blood may be hereditary, or it may be the remains of some constitutional disease, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system, or the absorption of the refuse of the body which has not been properly expelled through the natural channels. But whatever the cause, the blood is so weakened and polluted that it does not properly nourish and stimulate the place, and the sore cannot heal. Salves, plasters, lotions, etc., keep the sore or ulcer clean, relieve pain, and perhaps reduce inflammation, but can never permanently heal them because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down to the very fountain-head of the trouble, drives out all poisons and germs, builds up the weak, sluggish blood, gives energy and strength to the system, and by sending a fresh, healthy stream of blood to the diseased parts, allows the ulcer to heal naturally and permanently. Nothing reaches inherited taints like S. S. S. It cleanses the circulation of every trace of hereditary disease or impurity, and those who have nursed and treated an old sore for years will experience good results as soon as the system becomes influenced by S. S. S. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free to all who write.

JAPAN RELIES ON CANADA'S JUSTICE

FEELING OVER THE VANCOUVER RIOTS IS FRIENDLY.

Mr. Ishii, Who Will Investigate the Affair for the Mikado, Arrives in Ottawa.

TONE OF PRESS IS CALM

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 16.—A cablegram from Tokyo to Japanese Consul General Nossie, received Sunday, referring to the oriental riots at Vancouver, says:

"The feeling, in spite of the character of the disturbance being much graver than that of San Francisco, is favorable to Canada. While greatly regretting that this deplorable incident should occur within a dominion of the British empire, who ally Japan is, the tone of the press is calm and the public shows no excitement. All are depending upon the justice, friendship and fair play of the people of Canada, fully expecting that measures will be taken to protect Japanese lives and property."

Ishii Will Investigate.

Mr. Nossie does not say who is the author of the cable. Mr. Ishii, Japan's representative, arrived in Ottawa Sunday. He will meet Premier Laurier and other dominion officials at the home of Mr. Nossie on Tuesday evening.

It is understood that W. D. Scott, dominion superintendent of immigration, who is now on his way to Vancouver, will recommend that the immigration regulations be amended to require each entrant to possess a sum of money, as is required for entrance to the United States.

The mayor of Vancouver telegraphed the premier that the newly arrived orientals are not paupers. He asks permission to house them in government property because there are not sufficient dwellings available in Vancouver.

Graveful Lines.

"Women should be all curls and curves," says Mrs. Anna Bradley. "There's no reason why they shouldn't; curls and curves are cheap enough these days."

What She Had Been Drawing.

An extreme specimen of a dandy alighted from a four-wheeler and went round to pay the driver. The poor old bag-o-bones nodd turned her head to gaze at him. "Yes," said the driver confidentially to the horse, as the passenger moved away, "that's the blessed object you've been a-drawin' off!"—Tit-Bits.
